PPE DIRECTORY

Why are we getting involved?

The mining industry has made great advances in gender inclusion, and more women are working at operations. Women have different requirements when it comes to working in remote and challenging heavy industry environments, and if these needs are not adequately met, the risk of losing their talents becomes significant.

PPE that is specifically designed for the female body is a must for various reasons, primarily:

- Increased safety: women are usually supplied with small men clothes, which are ill-fitting to the contours or proportions of the female body which increases potentials for hazards and accidents
- Increased performance: if your clothes fit properly, you can get about and perform your duties more easily, with greater self-confidence. It’s really that simple
- Increased well-being: women are not men. It should be evident but the industry is learning that this is true not only for infrastructure, behaviour but also equipment. Recruitment and retention are heavily based on how people feel when they are at work. When one feels considered and included at work, engagement increases.

PPE designed for the female body exists, and there are many suppliers who are specialising and including equipment and clothing lines made specifically for women.

IWiM surveyed the industry and found a list of suppliers from different regions of the world who are currently offering options for women. If there is a supplier we are missing, please contact us here.

How to use this list

Format: company name, website, country where the business operates from and design type.

In some cases, there are several suppliers of a brand’s products, and some supplier’s stores don’t produce their own PPE, rather it’s a collection of brands.
We haven’t tried the items on the list and can’t vouch for their quality (unless stated), or adherence to international standards if it isn’t listed.

Commonly used symbols

- FD – Designed specifically for use by females.
- FR – Flame Retardant/Flame Resistant
- UF – A Unisex design that is more suitable for females.
- UD – A Unisex design
- WP – Waterproof

- Green font indicates the primary country this business operates from (NZ, AU, AR, EU, CA, US, SA, UK)

We have not listed suppliers of Women’s Hi-vis standard pants, jackets and shirts and standard steel capped boots as there is an abundance of these on the market. What is listed are the more specialty items that are harder to find designed for women or by women.

It’s a great starting list for businesses who either have female employees now or want a future with more female employees and want to take the exhaustive research out of finding PPE that adequately protects an suits a smaller, curvier and highly variable female form.

WOMEN'S WORKWEAR & HI-VIS CLOTHING

With an understanding that not all women are the same, we need to challenge the status quo that one size fits all.

Taking a man’s garment and modifying it to fit a woman, such as rolling up sleeves or pants legs, can be dangerous because the excess material can become caught in machinery. Clothing that is bulky can cause chaffing, irritation against the skin & an uncomfortable feeling causing women to be irritable/moody leading to loss of concentration at the workplace, distractions and other associated risks.

Harnesses

3m – https://www.3m.com/  WW Multiple Cross Over Harnesses UF/UD – Cross Over harnesses reduce the pressure on the breasts and chest and a wider range of motion than an H Harness, however it does take longer to put on/take off. If a fall occurs the cross over puts pressure on the sternum (not breasts), all harnesses are designed to put as much pressure on the hips as possible which absorbs a fall better.

Charm and Hammer – https://www.charmandhammer.com/ US One Ms Miller FD
